Cori E. Uccello, FSA, MAAA, is the senior health fellow at the American Academy of Actuaries. She serves as the actuarial profession's chief public policy liaison on health care issues. In this role, she promotes the formulation of sound health policy by providing nonpartisan technical assistance to federal and state policymakers. Ms. Uccello has expertise in various health-related areas, including risk pooling and risk sharing mechanisms, insurance benefit design and actuarial equivalence, and Medicare solvency and sustainability. Her work includes numerous papers and presentations on these and other topics. Before joining the Academy, she was a senior research associate at the Urban Institute, where she focused on health insurance and retirement issues. Ms. Uccello holds a bachelor's degree from Boston College and a master's degree in public policy from Georgetown University.
